Vermont Attorney General T.J. Donovan and Department of Disabilities, Aging and Independent Living Commissioner Monica Caserta Hutt Announce Fourth Video in the “Stay Savvy Vermont” Scam Awareness Partnership – Medicare Scam Awareness

WATERBURY, VT – The Vermont Attorney General’s Office (AGO) and the Department of Disabilities, Aging and Independent Living (DAIL) are proud to announce the fourth episode in the Stay Savvy Vermont series, a tool for increasing awareness among older Vermonters of potential scams. Stay Savvy Vermont is a web series created with the talents of the Community of Vermont Elders (COVE) Senior Medicare Patrol Savvy Seniors acting troupe, and produced with the generous support of ORCA Media.

The fourth episode focuses on Medicare scams, and can be found here:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YOQYSbwi_vs

If you have any questions or concerns about Medicare fraud, waste, or abuse – the Vermont Senior Medicare Patrol office is ready to help; you can contact them at 1-888-865-2683 or https://vermontelders.org/vt_smp/.

The Stay Savvy Vermont series is intended to provide viewers with an increased awareness about the tactics that scammers use and information on how to report suspected scam activity, in an entertaining and engaging way. Notably, the series utilizes the talents of actors and writers who are older Vermonters themselves.
